Judge J. M. Dockery of Portageville spent Saturday night visiting his son in this city.

THE PEOPLE ARE TIRED.

Our subscribers along the east side of the square are getting tired of being bothered by the Kohn and Allen outfit borrowing the Herald, which annoyance has been kept up for months, and complaint has often been made to us. Many times we have taken occasion to give the matter our personal observation, and it is disgusting to watch the gang trying to locate a paper as soon as it is off the press, even trying to get it before the subscriber has had time to read it. Last week Arthur Allen undertook to read one without asking the permission of the man who owned it, and had it taken from his hands. One of our subscribers handed us a dollar Saturday and told us to send the Herald to I. Kohn a year, but we could not accept the money that way, since I. Kohn refused to take the Herald from the post office last October. But it does appear that the bunch should have some respect and decency, and if they must have the Herald, should buy it and pay for it like other people.

Klinkhardt-Auglin.

George A. Klinkhardt of Route 1 and Miss Fannie Bell Auglin of Braggadecio were married at the home of the bride last Thursday, Esq. F. M. Gwin of this city officiating. Dinner was served at four o'clock to a large crowd of relatives and friends. The couple will leave for Maplewood to spend their honeymoon, after which they will make their home in St. Louis. The young couple started in life right by subscribing for the Herald, and they have our best wishes for their journey through life.

A Pleasant Visitor.

Will A. Jones, editor of the Kennett Democrat, paid this office a fraternal call Friday. He had accompanied his wife and little son this far on their way to Hot Springs. We appreciated Mr. Jones' visit, more in particular since we found him a clean, straightforward newspaper man, and one who is striving to protect the dignity and honor of the profession.

Guests of Mrs. J. T. Buckley.

Mrs. A. P. Sanders of Mound Valley, Kansas, arrived Wednesday night, on a visit to her niece, Mrs. John T. Buckley, and Mrs. Mrs. Lessie Croon of Henderson, Tenn., arrived Thursday night, on a visit to her brother, John T. Buckley. They will remain several days.

Don. J. Wilson has had some nice signs painted on the East Arkansas Lumber Company building, which adds greatly to its appearance. Don is always on the lookout for the best interests of his company and is making many friends among our people.

It is a pleasure to cook on an oil stove in hot weather. The "New Perfection" is best. You can get them in all sizes at Buckley's.

Last week several notices to build concrete walks were served, and only one instance was there the least unpleasantness about the matter. In this instance, the man receiving the notice deliberately tore it to pieces before the officer serving it. This is one of your "good" citizens.

Crutches, and crutch tips, elastic spring trusses, at Lefler's.

"Fleeced!"

In black faced poster type the Turncoat announces:

The Critic, next Friday, will tell of the "finding" of Twenty-seven Thousand Dollars of Drainage District No. 8 bonds which have been in HIDING three years, unsold, upon which the taxpayers have been PAYING INTEREST FOR THREE YEARS.—C. N. Walker.

Isn't that awful! More "fleecing," more "theft," more "robbery."

Wild-eyed anarchists, with gasping mouths and bated breath, will wait and watch for this great exposure, or explosion: Twenty-seven thousand dollars of drainage bonds found upon which the people have been paying taxes three years! What a find! How Old Walker slipped around in the dark and uncovered these hidden bonds is going to make a wonderful story, frightful, bloodcurdling, awful.

It is not often that Old Walker announces his program of lies a week ahead, for if he followed that practice the people would find out the truth beforehand and his purpose would be defeated. This is once he has broken his rule and will have to suffer the consequences of his folly.

Now, everybody who is the least posted knows there has been no "finding of $27,000 of drainage bonds of district No. 8," nor of any other district; nor have they "been in hiding three years," nor any length of time; nor have "the people paid interest upon them for three years," nor for any year, as the old lying scamp announces he will show.

The truth is, these bonds have not been issued, not even printed. Drainage district No. 8 was assessed at $367,000 by the levee board, based upon an estimated cost of dredging at 10 cents per yard, and the work was bid off

"Robbed!"

"Forewarned is Forearmed."

8 1/2 cents per yard, hence a saving to the district of $27,000. Bonds were issued and printed to cover the cost of the dredging contract, $340,000, and this sum is all the people of the district have paid interest upon, or will ever have to pay upon, unless the $27,000 balance, as originally assessed, can be restored, or issued, to cover an emergency as now appears to have arisen. This was the matter Col. A. L. Oliver, attorney for the drainage district, suggested to the County Court in session June 26, at which a number of the land owners were present, including that Old Jonah, Billy Goat Allen, traveling representative of Walker's Anarchist, and who alone could have reported the "lost-found-interest bearing bonds." No one else could have so little sense.

The question of issuing and selling, we suppose, will be left to the will of the land-owners and dredging contractors of the district, but of the merits, or demerits, or the legality of the proposition we have nothing to say at this time. It is not a question to be decided by the newspapers, and certainly not by the anarchists, whose ambition is to turn themselves loose upon every pretext and provocation.

So, good people, you see while you are trying to do things, trying to better matters, trying to protect your rights, this old anarchist, Walker, is taking advantage of your troubles to bring himself into notice, while his tirade, inflammatory abuse is defeating the very ends you are laboring to accomplish.

This is a proposition for level-headed business men to adjust, not for "blubbing," blubbing, lying anarchist scoundrels to make self-capital of.

More Truth.

It is believed that a fair audit of the books of Scott county would reveal a shortage of many thousand dollars.—Hayti Critic.

The word "believed" ought to be "hoped." Scott county had a fair and impartial audit. We wonder how the Critic found out otherwise. It would seem a paper that has two $50,000 slander suits on its hands would not be making reckless and untruthful charges as to another county about which he knows nothing. We have been disposed to sympathize with the Critic in its fight with the Herald. When Bill York was pouring in his heavy broadsides with no reply we sometimes wished William would hold up. But it seems York knew his business all right. The Critic evidently belongs to that class of papers that is never satisfied unless engaged in throwing dirt on somebody. Like a snake in dog days it strikes at every noise without waiting for verification. They live on a diet of villification and abuse and sooner or later die from the inevitable effects of such a menu. The editor of the Critic is a man of some ability and it seems a pity he can not be content with his fight in Pemiscot county without reaching out as he has in this case and making an undeserved fling at another county.—Scott County Democrat.

Tom Hemmingway and family were in Hayti Saturday, on their way to the upper end of the county, where Mr. Hemmingway is engaged in the dredge boat business. While here Mr. Hemmingway visited the Herald family, with whom he lived neighbors in Perry county, Indiana.

Hon. A. L. Oliver, Dr. G. W. Phipps, Walter Duncan and Jop Moad were Hayti visitors from Caruthersville Tuesday evening.

Billie Bartlett of Portageville was a Hayti visitor Saturday night. He is 71 years old, and went through the war as a Confederate soldier, but is still active, hale and hearty, and seems good for many more years.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Rice of St. Louis came down last week to spend a few days with Mrs. Rice's mother, Mrs. Edith King, who will return with them to St. Louis to make her future home.

FRISCO'S NEW RULE.

O. N. Watts, local agent for the Frisco, informs us that a new rule has been promulgated, whereby all claims for killing live stock can be settled with the home or local agent, saving much time and annoyance. In the first place, it should be borne in mind that when live stock is killed on the railroad, the engineer of the train killing the stock makes a report to the superintendent. Then the section foreman where the stock is killed makes a report. The owner of the stock files his claim for damages with the agent, stating the value of the stock, and the agent then makes his report to the superintendent. When the three reports are received and compared by the superintendent and are found to be uniform, the agent is instructed to pay the owner of the stock in cash.

The owner of live stock that is killed by the railroad can attend to all the details of collecting for same through the agent, and if he will make his claim for damages reasonable there will little occasion for delay. Just go to the agent and file your claim for a reasonable amount.

Freight claims will also be settled by the agent, and those having claims should consult him before taking other means to collect.

Five Good Reasons.

J. I. Barnett and family of Caruthersville motored over to this city Thursday evening, Buddie, as he is generally known, has five little fellows, which are his five reasons for wanting to be elected constable of Little Prairie township, for which office he is a candidate. Buddie is a good democrat and never sulks in his tent, and he seems to have much encouragement in this race. No doubt he would make a good officer and that he would be a terror to evil doers.

Gets No Encouragement.

J. L. Ward of Steele was here Friday, trying to interest our people in a new hotel building, but did not seem to meet with much encouragement. Our city is in need of a first class hotel, and it is said that Mr. Ward is a good hotel man. He runs the hotel at Steele, and is well known to most of the traveling public. We hope something can be done to supply our city with this much needed enterprise.

E. B. Culpepper and A. C. Hurst were a victim of a new joke that went the rounds last week. It was told that they had a fight Friday morning, and there the story stopped. Of course the listener would naturally want to know what the fight was about, and when he asked, would be told that Hurst tried to put a snow ball down Culpepper's back, and Culpepper got mad. It usually took about a minute for the joke to soak in.

Mrs. Bettie Vandervort and grandniece, Eunis Spain, of Doniphan, have been here several days on a visit to relatives and friends. At present they are stopping with the family of Brack Gaskins, but will leave in a few days to visit the family of Fred Hudgens on Dry Bayou. Mrs. Vandervort is one of the pioneer citizens of this county.

J. A. Johnson is building the school house in the new district, which will be ready for the coming term of school.

OLIVER APPOINTED.

Pemiscot County Recognized in Federal Patronage.

Washington, June 29.—Senator Stone of Missouri today authorized the announcement that these men would be appointed to Federal positions in Missouri:

The late Missouri senators have agreed upon the names given: District Attorney, Arthur L. Oliver, Caruthersville; Marshal for the Eastern District, John E. Lynch, Moberly; Collector of Internal Revenue, Eastern District, George H. Moore, St. Louis; Collector of the Port of St. Louis, Fount Rothwell, Columbia; Appraiser of Merchandise, Port of St. Louis, Frank H. Sosey, Palmyra.

The appointment of Col. Arthur L. Oliver not only comes as a well deserved merit for faithful and untiring party service, but as a merit of competency, and every citizen of Pemiscot county should feel a just pride in the selection of one of our citizens for this important federal position. Let us not lose sight of the fact that St. Louis, as well as other large cities of the state, were to be reckoned with in making this appointment, which certainly must indicate that Pemiscot county has some good material and that our citizenship ranks as high as that of any county in the state.

Colonel Oliver is a plain man, and one who never loses sight of the common people, and the man in overalls or blue jeans feels no more delicacy about approaching him than does the man in broadcloth—in fact, we believe the man in blue jeans would take the liberty of patting him hardest on the back.

Has No Opponent.

Chas. Pierce, county collector and candidate for re-election, was here Thursday morning, to pay some cows out of the pound pen, which he did good naturedly. By the way, when you come to think about it, Mr. Pierce has no opponent in the primary, which speaks well for him and shows that he has the confidence of the people.

News was received in this city Tuesday that Henry Owens, who was at one time section foreman at this place, had just died in a hospital at San Antonio, Texas. Henry was a good man, and his many friends here will be grieved to learn of his untimely demise.

What's your ailment? We have a Rexall Remedy for each ailment. They're all good,—we guarantee them. Lefler's, the Rexall Drug Store.

R. D. Sanders, the Concord constable, was in this city Saturday, and seemed to have good hopes of being the nominee at the primary for re-election. He has made a good officer, and feels that he is entitled to the second term.

We have one of the cleanest and most complete prescription department to be found anywhere. A registered and experienced man always in charge at Lefler's.

F. M. McClanahan, the oldest printer in the county, and who is now making his home at Island 18, was here Saturday morning, and called on the Herald. He is still active, and feels he is capable of filling his old place at the cases.
